PAVING THE STREETS OF CITY

O'NEILL CONSTRUCTION COMPANY WILL HURRY THE WORK.

Many Cars of Cement Have Arrived—Opening of the Street Car Tracks.

The work on the curbing and guttering of Wall avenue, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-third streets, is being prosecuted in full force, Contractor O'Neill making the statement that if the weather will permit, a large force of men will be put to work and kept at work constantly on the entire paving district of the city until the job is completed. He thinks that by the first of November, Ogden streets will have quite a different appearance as by that time all the paving will be finished.

The Rapid Transit people, not being prepared just now to lay their rails on Twenty-fourth street, seven feet of paving will be left open for them. The company states that it will be ready to place rails early next spring. The streets committee and the mayor of the city are of the opinion that it is better to leave this particular space, which is in the center of the street and is not much used, open and thereby save the other property owners the cost of paving seven feet on Twenty-fourth street between Lincoln and Wall avenue.

The Bamberger people have agreed to lay their rails on Lincoln avenue, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-fourth streets immediately, so that the entire job of paving that avenue between those two points will be completed this fall. Bamberger, however, is not doing anything just now to indicate that he will lay the rails as stated. In the event that he does not lay his track this fall, his right-of-way will be left open the same as the Rapid Transit people's right-of-way on Twenty-fourth street.

There are now five cars of cement in the depot and a concrete mixer, and Mr. O'Neill states that there are six more cars on the way, so that there will be no lack of material for the successful prosecution of the work.

It will be a number of days before the grading on Washington avenue between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth streets can be completed, but this will cause no delay in paving operations.

BUSINESS MEN BUNCOED BY A PRETTY DAMSEL

Within the last few days a pretty little adventuress has turned a clever trick, the result being that she has $200 or $300 dollars in cash and a few business men of the city are the possessors of worthless bank checks drawn in favor of J. J. Jackson, and endorsed by the pretty little woman. She endorsed the checks as Miss J. J. Jackson but to her "friends" she was Miss Cora Livingston. She posed here as an equestrian who much loved the range. It was always the "simple life for me" with her. She was out horseback riding nearly every evening, wearing a lady's cowboy suit of brown. Her hair hung down her back in two long braids. She was surely the picture of the cowgirl.

The businessmen would like very much to get their money back, but nobody seems to know where Miss Jackson-Livingston has gone. She may be in Omaha or Chicago, or she may have gone back to the ranch (?)

IT WORKS

The Laborer Eats Food That Would Wreck an Office Man.

Men who are actively engaged at hard work can sometimes eat food that would wreck a man who is more closely confined.

This is illustrated in the following story:

"I was for 12 years clerk in a store working actively and drank coffee all the time without much trouble until after I entered the telegraph service.

"There I got very little exercise and drinking strong coffee, my nerves grew unsteady and my stomach got weak and I was soon a very sick man. I quit meat and tobacco and in fact I stopped eating everything which I thought might affect me except coffee, but still my condition grew worse and I was all but wrecked.

"I finally quit coffee and commenced to use Postum a few years ago and I am speaking the truth when I say, my condition commenced to improve immediately and today I am well and can eat anything I want without any bad effects, all due to shifting from coffee to Postum.

"I told my wife today I believed I could digest a brick if I had a cup of Postum to go with it.

"We make it according to directions boiling it half 20 minutes and use good rich cream and it is certainly delicious."

THE WAGNER PEOPLE ARRIVE

SNAKE CHARMER DID NOT ACCOMPANY THEM.

Was Bitten While Packing Up at Seattle—May Reach Here Saturday—Handles Rattlesnakes.

Gus Wagner's Traveling Museum reached the fair grounds this morning, but the snake charmer did not accompany the party owing to an accident at Seattle just as they were packing up for the trip. Madame Brew was bitten by one of the snakes and was taken to the hospital.

A message this afternoon to Mr. Wagner states that the woman may be able to reach Ogden by Saturday, but it is not certain that she will be able to give an exhibition Monday. She is the only woman in the world who handles rattlesnakes that have not had their fangs extracted.

MAYOR ROSE TO ARRIVE MONDAY

Arrangements have been made for the entertainment of Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee, next Monday. It is planned for him to give a short address at the fair grounds in the forenoon, and this will be done if he arrives in the city early enough. At the noon hour he will be banqueted at the Weber club by the mayor of the city and members of the Weber club. During the afternoon he will be driven through the canyon and will be treated to a trout and chicken dinner at the Hermitage. Mr. Rose's lecture at the Tabernacle will begin promptly at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The Tabernacle meeting will be presided over by President A. R. Heywood and Mayor Brewer will introduce the distinguished Milwaukee mayor to the audience. Invocation will be given by Bishop John Watson. Mayor Rose's lecture will deal with "Temperance, Not Prohibition."

STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYEES HAD A SUCCESSFUL OUTING

The most successful annual outing of the Ogden Street Railway Employees division No. 418, was held at the Hermitage Hotel, canyon yesterday. Those who participated in the festivities were elated.

The day was spent in feasting and social recreation and in the participation in various outdoor sports. In the evening the large pavilion was brilliantly lighted for those who desired to indulge in the dance. The crowd that attended was a record breaking one and everybody there had a right good time.

In the racing events of the day, the following persons were the winners:

The $27 umbrella was won by S. M. Wardleigh.

C. Fisher won the married ladies' race, a $3 pair of shoes.

Boys' race under fifteen years, won by Donnan King, pair school shoes.

Gentlemen's race, won by J. T. Cole, one dress shirt.

Girl's race, under 12 years, won by Margaret Thelsted, 32 cents.

Lady's mail driving, won by Mrs. B. Harris, $2.50 worth of groceries.

Best recital, boy or girl, won by Pearl Shaw, box of candy.

Egg race, free for all, won by John Robinson, a pocketknife.

Jumping, won by J. T. Cole, safety razor.

Oldest Union man on the grounds, won by J. B. Cole, pair of union-made gloves.

Pitching quoits, won by H. Stone, a pocketknife.

Foot race between conductor and motorman, won by John Robinson, a clock.

Largest family on grounds, won by Mrs. J. Searl, $5 street car tickets.

Best cake on grounds, won by Mrs. F. King, $5 street car tickets.

THOSE WHO WILL DEPART FOR SCHOOL AT DISTANCE

It is figured that at least $27,000 will be spent by Ogden people this year in the education of their children in eastern schools. The young people now known to be preparing to take up studies in colleges of the East within the next ten days or two weeks are:

Low Beason and Ralph Emmerson, Boston; Roy Tavey, Purdue; Louis Pingree, Edmund Browning, Willard Kay, Leonard Jenkins, Stanford; William Perkins, Harvard; Wade Johnson, University of Pennsylvania; Reinhold Gideon and Russell Davenport, Amherst; Margaret Spargo, Brownell Hall; Pamela Spargo, La Sol; Margaret Armstrong, Mary Abbott and Elsie Forest, Rockford; Irene Griffin and Nellie Forest, Mills; Dorothy Bigelow, Wellesley; Frank and Geo. Bartlett, University of Chicago; Oriff Bedford, Columbia; Edith Grey, New England Conservatory of Music; John Haywood, University of Virginia; Louis Smith, University of Kansas; Edward Roberts, University of Minnesota and Thomas Maglinis, St. Mary's, Kansas.

Mr. Tavey departed for his school today and the balance of those named will leave home soon.

Governor General at the Fair
Seattle, Wash., Sept. 3.—Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, with his family and staff spent the day sight-seeing in Seattle. The party rode in automobiles to the city's show places and passed the afternoon at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, where Canada has a handsome building.

Condemnation Award—In the condemnation case of the Salt Lake & Ogden Railroad company against Peter Nelson, the defendant failed to appear in court and the court rendered a verdict in favor of Plaintiff, awarding Nelson $25 for the seventh of an acre occupied by the railroad company.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Congregational church, which has been closed for two months, will reopen Sunday. Miss Holberg, Mr. White and the choir of young people will be present to assist in the service of music. At the evening hour Mr. Emerson will play the violin offertory. The evening sermon is to be especially for the young men and women of Ogden whose faces are turned to the great colleges and universities of the land. It will be essentially a service of recognition.

The public may be interested to know that twelve of the young people of the Congregational church will be away during the year pursuing studies in higher educational institutions—one in Wellesley, two in Boston "Tech," one in Harvard, two in Amherst (all in the state of Massachusetts), 2,500 miles away; one in the University of Chicago, one in Kansas University, two in the University of California and two in our own state university.

The pulpit editorials will continue to have a place just preceding the sermon.

The musical program will be published in tomorrow's papers.

POLITICAL GOSSIP AS HEARD AROUND TOWN

Although the municipal election is yet far distant, political gossip is rife and candidates for the various offices are being pushed to the front by their friends and supporters. Since the announcement was made that Parley Moyes, paying teller at the First National bank, would likely seek the nomination at the Republican convention for city treasurer, Thomas B. Farr, the incumbent, also a Republican, has made a formal announcement of his candidacy for reelection.

The friends of J. S. Cavanah and Dan W. Ellis, both strong Republicans, are hard at work trying to clinch the mayoralty nomination for their respective favorites. It is said by his friends that it is probable that the Democrats will renominate Mayor A. L. Brewer, the present incumbent, for a second term. Mayor Brewer has not yet made a formal announcement of his candidacy, but it is believed by his friends that he would accept the honor if conferred upon him.

For Other Offices.

Next to the mayoralty fight, that for city recorder promises to be the most interesting. Deputy Sheriff Carl Allison is making a strong fight for the nomination and may land it. Yesterday C. S. Rapp, another Republican, formally announced his intention to seek the nomination. In addition to these candidates, two other Republicans have to be reckoned with. These are Mrs. Tillie Poulter, the incumbent, and W. D. Van Dyke, a returned Latter-day Saint missionary. Both have strong followings.

From present appearances, Mrs. Florence B. Stanford, the county auditor, will have no opposition in the Republican ranks for the nomination, but the Democrats are said to be grooming a strong candidate for the position.

DR. COOK SAYS LOWEST TEMPERATURE AT NORTH POLE WAS 117 DEGREES

SKETCHES AS TO WHAT DR. COOK ACCOMPLISHED

Berlin, Sept. 3.—Dr. Sieglin, professor of geography of the Berlin University, said today that the character of Dr. Cook, and his entire career, led him to believe the American had reached the pole if he made the assertion. Dr. Sieglin knows Dr. Cook as an energetic, cool and courageous explorer who in the past has overcome every difficulty.

"One must accept in principle the statement that Dr. Cook has reached the pole," the professor continued. "But there is certainly ground to doubt the correctness of some of the published details of his experiences. Such an explorer as Dr. Cook would hardly choose the unfavorable month of March and April for his dash.

"The geographical world is in an attitude of some skepticism toward reported discoveries, and we must await the arrival of Dr. Cook with his proofs. Dr. Cook seems to have been actuated by a high sporting spirit as well as a desire for scientific knowledge."

GLORIFIED COMMONPLACES CHARACTERISTIC OF DR. COOK

London, Sept. 3.—Dr. Cook's story of his North Pole discovery continues to be the topic of discussion in London today. The press, the public, scientists and publicists are still inclined to believe the authenticity of the doctor's narrative, but they prefer to suspend final judgment until the scientific details of the journey are available. It is pointed out that no scientist or Arctic explorer has found anything impossible in the claims made by Dr. Cook up to the present time and that the explorer's high reputation leads the majority to believe that he is not likely to attempt to mislead the world.

The Pall Mall Gazette, referring to the tendency in some quarters to take a dubious view of the achievement on account of the peculiar character of the doctor's story, says:

"Readers of Dr. Cook's book about his ascent of Mount McKinley will recognize the author in every feature of this narrative. He wanted space. He made use of glorified commonplaces about his feelings on the summit of Mount McKinley, much as he does now with the 'purple snows' of the pole around him when he indulges in 'purple reflections' upon the disappearance of time and the points of the compass at the pole. Dr. Cook has written once more in his own style gives no reason to suppose that he did not reach the highest latitude on earth. It merely remains for him to prove it."

ROME DISCUSSES THE NORTH POLE DISCOVERY

Rome, Sept. 3.—The question whether Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the American explorer, did or did not reach the North Pole, brought out statements today from Italian scientists and Arctic explorers, including the Piedmont guides who accompanied the Duke of Abruzzi on his polar expedition of 1900. These expressions are all to the effect that Dr. Cook could not possibly have been misled into believing he had reached the pole had he not actually done so. He must have carried

SPORTS, RACES AND WILD WEST SHOW

See the Prizes and Free Gifts:

The Labor Day committeemen are endeavoring to make this Labor Day celebration the best and most enjoyable affair of the kind that has ever been held in Ogden. In order to make it, such it will require the earnest cooperation of all. We are desirous of making the day of especial interest to the children, and will present each child under 12, who takes part in the sports, with a little present, as well as a prize to the winner of each event. Heretofore it has been the custom to limit participation in the sports to union people, but this year the sports will be "free for all" (unless otherwise specified), except to professionalists and regular amateurs. Don't be afraid to let your little ones take part in the sports, for there will be several ladies on the sports committee, who will see that they are well taken care of, and returned to you safely. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free in the morning. The grand stand will be free to all in the morning up to 12:30 o'clock. Remember, get up early, get breakfast early and get to the fair grounds early, for the fun will begin at NINE O'CLOCK SHARP.
